Lingering Cold Increases Heating Problems in U. S.

250,000 Workers Idle as Industries Are Closed Because of No Fuel

Chicago, Jan. 30 (AP)—Cold weather lingered in parts of the Midwest and east today, increasing the heating-fuel problem, but rising temperatures were on the way to many sections of the central, southern and mountain states.

Shortages of fuel still affected scores of communities and became more acute in some areas following the several recent cold snaps. Industries across the country forced to close because of the curtailment of gas supplies have made idle more than 250,000 workers.

Today's coldest weather was in scattered sections of the country, with below zero temperatures reported in the Dakotas, Michigan, northern New York and parts of New England.

A fresh mass of cold air over Lake Superior moved into Michigan, spread across the Middle Atlantic States and into New England. South Ste. Marie, Mich., reported a low of -17 while marks of below zero prevailed in northern lower Michigan.

Below zero temperatures hit northern New York after a blizzard swept the area with a snowfall measuring from 10 to 12 inches in Watertown. The mercury dropped to -14 at Canton, N. Y., early today.

The temperature fell 20 degrees overnight in New York city, where the mercury reading at 7 a. m. was right above. The thermometer in Burlington, Vt., and Carson, Me., dipped to 11 below and four and colder weather was the general forecast for the New England area today.

Asks Regulation

New York city's fuel shortage prompted the state fuel coordinator to request oil companies to regulate deliveries, with home owners, public institutions and other non-essential users. Many homes in the metropolis are without heat and public buildings and hospitals are running low on oil. Residents in some apartment houses forced with fuel shortages have moved into hotels.

The cold wave in Texas, with a week of snow, ice, rain and below freezing temperatures, appeared ended and warmer weather was forecast. Sixteen deaths were attributed to the cold weather in the last seven days. The heating-fuel problem eased after three million gallons of butane gas were released from refineries and industrial users for domestic use.

Emergency in Tennessee

In Tennessee, Governor Jim McCall declared a state emergency and called for a voluntary fuel conservation program.

A slight moderation in temperature was forecast for the south-eastern states with some freezing rain. Snow and freezing rain fell last night in the Tennessee and lower Mississippi valleys.

Snow fell in eastern Kansas and northern Oklahoma but stopped in Texas. Fairbanks, Alaska, reported 5 to 14 inches were reported.

Ulster to Begin Mass X-Ray Clinic Program to Check TB

Town of Wawarsing Is Selected as First Area; State Unit Will Arrive in County Early in March

Ulster county has been selected as one of the first counties in the state to participate in the New York State Department of Health mass chest X-ray survey clinic program. The aim of the program is to have all adults X-rayed in a program to detect tuberculosis and aid in the stamping out of the disease.

The township of Wawarsing has been selected by the County of Ulster Department of Health as the first township to have this mass X-ray and that program will be put into effect early in March when a state mobile X-ray unit will come to Ulster county to carry out this free program. Under the program now laid out the town of Saugerties will be the next town to be visited. That date has been set for April and it is the expectation of the health authorities that these programs will lead to a similar mass X-ray survey in Kingston and other towns of the county later.

Dr. Richard Nauen, associate director of Case Finding Activities in Tuberculosis from the New York State Health Department, met Thursday evening with Dr. George James, Ulster county commissioner of health; Dr. Allen Longshore, deputy commissioner of health; Dr. George W. Schwenk, Ulster county health officer.

Murphy Says Fire Loss $25,958.91

Annual Report of Chief Shows Department Had 515 Calls

Kingston's fire loss during 1947 was $25,958.91, a decrease of $39,006.46 from the 1946 loss, according to the annual report submitted by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy to the Board of Fire Commissioners Friday. He said that this meant the loss per capita for 1947 was $8.47, against a $22.27 per capita loss in 1946.

Of the total loss, only $1,500 was not covered by insurance, according to the report. During the year the fire department responded to 515 calls, a decrease of 45 from 1947, the chief said.

Replacement Plan

Chief Murphy recommended to the fire commissioners that a plan be formulated for the purchase of one new piece of fire equipment each year until the obsolete trucks now in service in the volunteer houses be replaced. He also recommended that "some thought be given to the installation of two-way radio on some of the apparatus," so that fire headquarters would be in contact with the apparatus at all times.

He also informed the board that he has received information from some of the fire apparatus companies that delivery of some of the pieces on order may be expected in the early spring. Equipment on order includes one 85-foot aerial truck for the Central Station, one 65-foot aerial truck for the Willywick Station, one 750-gallon Mack pumper to replace Engine 3 at Willywick station, and one 500-gallon pumper for the Central Station. A. H. Wicks Engine Company, calls for repairs.

Chief Murphy recommended that the fire department inspect all fire houses in the city to make plans for the repairs which, he said, are badly needed. He also said that he looks forward to the adoption of a new building code in 1948 as well as a new fire prevention code. He said that a committee had been appointed last year by the Common Council for that purpose, but "little has been done to date."

During 1947, the fire department received 36 bell alarms for fire and 22 false alarms, the chief reported. Also, 352 telephone alarms were received and 30 verbal reports of fire. The department answered seven calls for fire outside the city limits.

French Legislature Approves Bill to Recall Big Franc Notes

Schwenk Truck Is Demolished When Struck by Train

F. W. Schwenk, Driver Is Unhurt; Bread Strewn Along Tracks

Frederick W. Schwenk, 141 Clifton avenue, escaped uninjured this morning when he jumped from a bakery truck which he was driving a split second before it was struck and wrecked by a Wallkill Valley railroad train at the South Clinton avenue crossing in this city.

The truck, owned by C. Schwenk's Sons, bakers, of 201 Foxhall avenue, was struck in the rear by the engine, spun around, and was hit in the front end by the same engine and was thrown up onto a snow bank against a railroad crossing sign. The motor and front end of the truck were demolished by the impact of the crash.

The train consisted of a string of coal cars pulled by two engines. The lead engine, Number 808, was in charge of Engineer Frank Neice of Phoenixia. Fireman Joseph Sember of 70 Third avenue, and Conductor David E. Showers, Jr., of 11 Cottage Row, according to the police report, The accident occurred at 7:51 a. m. today.

Schwenk, who with his brother Herman C., operates the bakery, was driving the truck, loaded with bread, on Clinton avenue, and was crossing the tracks going into South Clinton avenue, when the train struck the rear of the truck, he said. The train was coming towards Broadway at the time.

Schwenk said he jumped at about the same time the engine first struck the truck, and landed safely in a snowbank. Most of the bread in the truck was salvaged and transferred to other Schwenk trucks which came to the scene. Some of it, however, was strewn along the tracks for a distance of about 50 feet.

Plane Wreck Sighted

Frankfurt, Germany, Jan. 30 (AP)—U. S. Air Force headquarters reported today the sighting of plane wreckage in the lower French Alps, and said another plane, presumably a B-17 in the search party, had crashed 20 miles east of the wreckage. The first plane was believed to be a DC-3 transport which disappeared Tuesday while on route from France to Italy. It carried three American women and five children, dependents of U. S. soldiers in the Trieste area.

Truman Puts G.O.P. In Dry-Wet Squeeze

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—President Truman's demand for control of grain used by distillers put congressional Republicans on a political hot spot today.

Some G.O.P. members admitted privately that Mr. Truman has used their own anti-inflation law to maneuver them into a squeeze between the dries and the wets.

Their plight is this: Kentucky, thick with distilleries, is a doubtful state in this year's presidential election. The West—Kansas, for instance—has a lot of dries who don't think grain ought to go into whisky at any time.

The anti-inflation law passed at the 1947 special session gave the President power to parcel out grain for distilling until January 31—tomorrow.

The Senate voted to extend this power to February 29. But the House Banking Committee killed that bill Monday.

Under the anti-inflation law the distillers could still get together with the Agriculture Department and agree to cut down on their use of grain and how to split up what they do use.

Those With Money Will Be Repaid; Works as Vote for Schuman

Paris, Jan. 30 (AP)—Both houses of France's Legislature approved today the government's bill withdrawing all 5,000-franc notes from circulation.

The Finance Ministry announced that everyone holding the 5,000-franc notes will be repaid. The announcement said the operation was not "an expropriation." An official source had indicated yesterday that some of the bills might be confiscated as a blow at the black market if holders could not explain their possession.

Premier Robert Schuman's drastic money program cleared another hurdle when the Council of the Republic ratified by a vote of 167 to 126 the bill abolishing the 5,000-franc note as legal tender. Earlier the National Assembly approved the bill 308 to 288 after an all night debate. The premier had staked the life of his two-month-old coalition cabinet on his program.

About 65,000,000 of the 5,000-franc notes were in circulation, valued at $1,540,000,000 (B) at the new rate of 214 francs to the dollar.

There is not and will not be any withdrawal of other notes of the Bank of France," the Finance Ministry announced.

Another administration bill, to free the gold market, hopped a preliminary hurdle. The Assembly turned down the unfavorable recommendation of its own finance commission. The tally was 328 to 240.

After that, the Assembly adjourned. It planned to meet again this afternoon for more debate on the gold bill. The measure was believed to have a good chance of Assembly approval.

Bills passed by the Assembly then go before the Council of the Republic, Parliament's second house. The Assembly can override the council, but that chamber votes down a measure. On the monetary measures, it would be expected to do so.

Note Worth $23.50

Withdrawal of the 5,000-franc banknote, worth about $23.50, is aimed, the government says, to clamp black marketers and hit hoarders. They are reported reliably to hold half of all such bills.

The step also may cut down the total amount of money in circulation and strike at inflation. This depends on how the notes are redeemed—something the government has not announced. The 66,000,000 5,000-franc notes outstanding are about 37 per cent of all franc notes.

Socialist deputies swung their support to the government in today's votes on both bills. They had decided to abstain on the gold issue. They said a free gold market could work against a planned economy.

But Schuman assured them early today that the currency measure was aimed at the black market. They then caucused and were reported agreed to back the bill.

Subsequently the Socialists voted with the government to recommend the finance commission recommendations against both measures and to adopt the proposal on the 5,000-franc note. Communists and extreme rightists voted in opposition.

Qualified observers believed the

MOHANDAS K. GANDHI

DuMond Warns Growers They Must Be Merchandisers

Quality in Product, Ways of Packaging Vital Points; Snyder Is Speaker

Tomorrow's world was presented as bitter and sweet to members of the New York State Horticultural Society at its banquet in the Governor Clinton Hotel last night.

Chester C. DuMond, state Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets warned: "We have got to begin to see that our apples live up to the mark or else get out of the business of raising apples for the market."

Frederic Snyder, local lecturer foresaw a virtual "life quake" which may come of the march of millions in China and India beyond their boundaries, and the possible development of a weapon greater than the atomic bomb through new finds in solar radiation.

The commissioner spoke as toastmaster and the lecturer as guest speaker on a program which paid tribute to Roy McPherson, former secretary of the society and to 4-H Club work. The program was opened by Donald Green of Chazy, N. Y., president of the society.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk welcomed the members and urged the convention committee to return the annual eastern meeting of the society to the city next year.

Commissioner DuMond stressed the point that "These are very hazardous times," and "in our industry we have come to the place

Reds Protest U. S. Moves as Violation

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—A second Russian protest against American military moves in the Mediterranean has been received by the State Department.

Officials said today the note is under study, but did not disclose what it says. The Moscow radio said it protests that the presence of American warships in Italian ports violates the peace treaty with Italy.

Secretary Marshall is expected to reject outright an earlier Soviet protest against American plans to restore the strategically important wartime airfield at Meliha in North Africa.

Committee Slashes Truman Estimate

Appropriations Measure Is Cut Six Per Cent; Is First Big Bill

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee brought in the first big money bill of the 1948 session today with a 6 per cent cut in President Truman's spending estimates.

Among other things, the committee whacked the President's own emergency fund from $1,000,000 to $700,000. It said he has been using it for things which "cannot be classified on any reasonable basis" as emergencies.

The bill is to provide funds for the Presidential office and 22 other government agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1. The committee recommended a total of $991,583,551. The President's estimate, through the Budget Bureau, was $1,047,798,864.

The committee cut $100,000 from the $400,000 requested for the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

It threw out a $504,000 item to get ready for any possible emergency which might make it necessary to draft men into the army again.

Doesn't Approve Draft

The committee said it does not believe the draft training by the Office of Selective Service records is "warranted" at this time.

Explaining the cut in the President's emergency fund, the committee said the money is supposed to "provide for emergencies affecting the national interest of security."

Spiritual Leader Was 78 Years Old

Assailant Is Reported to Be Hindu From Poona; Throgs Knew Gandhi as Mahatma

Grief Is Great

Expressions of Dismay Given by All Nations; Politics Blamed

New Delhi, Jan. 30 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi was shot to death tonight by one of the Hindus he led to independence.

The frail and wizened little political and spiritual leader was the target of three bullets fired at close range at his prayer meeting on the lawn of the sumptuous Birla Mansion, the estate of an Indian industrialist who long had supported Gandhi. He was 78.

Police arrested the assassin immediately. They said only that he was a Hindu from Poona. He was held incommunicado at police headquarters.

High police officials said tonight Mohandas K. Gandhi was slain "for political reasons—because some persons did not agree with his appeals against violence."

Sobbing bitterly, Gandhi's personal secretary, S. Kalyanam, told the Associated Press: "Bapu is dead."

Bapu is the affectionate name for Gandhi, meaning father. To millions of his followers, he was known as Mahatma, or great-souled one. His full name was Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi.

Felt He Had Failed

Death came less than a year after he achieved his life's main goal of independence from Great Britain for the teeming subcontinent of India. Paradoxically, however, Gandhi considered his triumph a failure because India and her 400,000,000 people were divided into separate dominions of India (Hindu) and Pakistan (Moslem). The partition resulted in bloody, destructive communal warfare between Moslems on one side and Hindus and Sikhs on the other.

It was in an effort to end the bloodshed that Gandhi undertook this month the last of his many fasts. After five days in which he threatened to starve himself to death, Gandhi broke his fast Jan. 18. On the "pledge and counsel" of friends in both dominions. He said they had assured him of "complete unbroken friendship" between all communities.

During the tense days of his fast, some of the more militant shouted bitterly in the streets and before his living quarters: "Let Gandhi die."

But there was every indication that this was the view of a tiny minority, embittered by the communal warfare.

Shortly after the fast, a bomb exploded near a prayer meeting, also in the Birla Mansion estate, but did no harm. A Hindu was arrested.

Some Hindus, their womenfolk violated in the communal upheavals, had resented Gandhi's pleas for peace with the Moslems.

Gandhi, for many years spiritual leader of the Congress Party and a spearhead in the Hindu fight for independence from the British, only 12 days ago completed a fast which threatened his life. Gandhi undertook the fast in an effort to smooth relations between Moslems and Hindus.

The shooting scene was a patch of lawn on the grounds of palatial Birla mansion, from which Gandhi since December had been conducting public prayer meetings. It was there that he undertook his recent fast. It was then also that a Hindu recently planted

Plan Is Afoot to Use G. O. P. Bill as Model for Substitute

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—Democrats hatched a plan today to use the G.O.P. tax cut bill as the model for a substitute containing a $3,200,000,000 corporation tax.

But as a way to save a part of President Truman's own tax program, it looked like a forlorn hope.

The great election year debate entered its second day with Republicans confident their bill, with its $6,500,000,000 in tax reductions, will pass unchanged on Monday. The Republican bill does not provide any new taxes.

The Democratic leadership had just about given up any idea of putting the President's 40-a-head tax-cutting proposal before the

Margaret Kasten Entitled to Share In Gas Station

Justice Elsworth Rules Inmate Is Vested With One-Sixth Interest in Property

Title of a gasoline station property at Maple Hill in the town of Rosendale has been determined by Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in a decision handed down in the action brought by Helen Hanley against Margaret Kasten, an incompetent person, by James G. Connelly, her guardian ad litem, who was appointed to appear for her interests in the action which was brought to determine title to the premises.

The property, formerly known as the Jordan property, is used as a gasoline station, and was owned by the plaintiff in the present action, her four brothers and the defendant, Margaret Kasten.

Defendant has been confined to a state hospital for upwards of 15 years and no committee has ever been appointed for her. Attorney James G. Connelly was appointed guardian ad litem in the present action and sought to have the complaint dismissed and the court determine that the defendant is invested with an undivided one-sixth interest in the premises at Maple Hill.

Owned by the plaintiff, her four brothers and the defendant, the premises were sold in May 1944 by the county treasurer for unpaid taxes of the year 1942, for the sum of $71.21. It was bought at that sale by A. J. Cook. On May 22, 1945 the purchaser received a tax sale deed. On June 11, 1946, he conveyed to the plaintiff, Helen Hanley, for a consideration of about $72 the premises.

His deed to the property from the county and her deed were both recorded on June 11, 1946, in the county clerk's office. In February 1947, the four brothers conveyed to Helen Hanley all the right title and interest which they have in the property.

Justice Elsworth holds that the defendant, Margaret Kasten, is entitled to a one-sixth interest in the premises, subject to contribution of her proportionate share of the amount paid in acquiring the aforesaid deed from the purchaser on the tax sale.

William A. Kaercher appeared for plaintiff and James G. Connelly for the defendant. The matter was heard at chambers before Justice Elsworth on October 14, last.

Elsworth's Memorandum

In his memorandum Justice Elsworth says there is no dispute that the plaintiff and defendant owned the premises as tenants in common with others when the 1942 assessment was made, and

Napoleon's Channel Tunnel Dream May Come True

Napoleon Bonaparte's dream of a tunnel under the English Channel may soon be a reality. Britain and France have once again started conferring on the possibility of a bomb-resistant underground tube linking the two nations. The project, as outlined by a joint commission, calls for a 28-mile tunnel between Folkestone, England, and Cape Gris Nez, France, large enough for two automobile roads and two electric train tracks. Cost is estimated at $200,000,000. Above is an artist's conception of the completed tunnel.

Propose Tunnel

Map spots the location of a proposed 28-mile bombproof tunnel under the English Channel linking Folkestone, England, and Cape Gris Nez, France. The two nations have again started conferring on the 146-year-old idea of such a tunnel, which would cost about $200,000,000.

The United States has more than 1,757,000 miles of surfaced highways.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

$7,000 Fire Loss In Ellenville Is Reported by Firm

Ellenville, Jan. 30.—At the office of the Terwilliger Insurance Agency this week it was estimated that Mrs. George Boos has sustained a loss of possibly $6,000 through the fire which on Thursday destroyed the entire interior of the second floor apartments, with attic and roof, of her house at 9 Essex street and also resulted in a total loss of the furniture in the apartments which were occupied by Mrs. Boos.

Against this she had insurance of $3,800 with the agency. In addition to Mrs. Boos' loss, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wheeler, who occupied the first floor apartments, had their furniture and furnishings badly damaged by smoke and water. Their insurance is carried by an out of town agency, but it was estimated that their loss might add another thousand dollars to the total.

Passerby Sees Fire It was stated that Mrs. Boos was sitting in the sun porch of her apartment when a passerby saw smoke coming from the attic and gave the alarm which was the first that she was aware that anything was wrong.

The firemen were called at 12:20 and by the time they could reach the scene the fire was sweeping through the attic and the second floor. The firemen were hampered by the intense heat as a tight tin roof kept the flames from going upward. However, they succeeded in confining it to the upper part of the house.

Until repairs can be made Mrs. Boos is making her home with her sister, Mrs. Edward Glennon. Mr. Wheeler and family are for the present occupying apartments in the home of Miss Harriet Bradford.

Ellenville, Jan. 30.—Saturday's storm added another five or six inches of snow to the huge accumulation already on hand. The street department was on the job in good time and has been busy plowing roads and removing snow from the main streets. Their work has resulted, however, in numerous "howls" from property owners who complain that driveways have been plowed shut and in some cases sidewalks, newly shoveled, have been piled high with snow.

John Terwilliger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Terwilliger, is leaving this week for New Concord, O., where he will enter Muskingum College, majoring in music. He has been serving recently as organist in the Reformed Church.

The March of Dimes annual ball for the Ellenville district will be held Saturday night at the Wayside Inn. Postmaster Tuthill McDowell is chairman of the local drive.

There was an attendance of 190 at the 25th annual meeting of the Ellenville Credit Union held at the Workman's Circle building. President Benjamin Lonstein presided for the occasion. A. Albert, chairman of the credit committee, reported over $80,000 in loans approved and Louis N. Zipperman, treasurer, reported total assets on December 31 of $122,767.75. A dividend of 2 1/2 per cent for 1947 was announced. Harry Rieger, David Rosenthal, Joseph Cohen, Harry Kreitzer and Leo Buchsbaum were elected directors for terms of three years each.

The death is reported of Mrs. Augusta Vanderlyn, wife of George M. Vanderlyn on January 20 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nellie V. Dunwoody, Englewood, N. J. She was born at Ulster Heights on July 20, 1867.

Local Hospitals On Approved List

American College of Surgeons Announces Results of Survey

The Kingston, Benedictine and Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospitals have been placed on the approved list by the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. Irving Abell, chairman of the Board of Regents of the college, in announcing the approved hospitals, declares it is a satisfaction to state that, in general, the service rendered by our hospitals today, despite the high costs, shortages of personnel, and other difficulties which persist, is worthy of warm commendation. Numerically, the new Approved List shows only a small increase of 25 hospitals over last year, which is partly because of the omission of some 75 United States Army hospitals which have ceased to operate. Of the 3,900 hospitals under survey in 1947, 80.6 per cent are approved. Statistics, however, cannot show the whole picture of widespread eagerness to give better service.

In 1918 when the results of the first hospital standardization survey were reported, only 89 hospitals met the requirements for approval; now 3,143 meet the standard, the fundamental requirements of which briefly summarized, are as follows:

Modern physical plant, assuring the patient safety, comfort, and efficient care.

Clearly defined organization, duties, responsibilities, and relations.

Carefully selected governing board with complete and supreme authority.

Competent chief executive officer or administrator, well trained in all phases of hospital administration, with authority and responsibility to interpret and carry out the policies of the hospital as authorized by the governing board.

Adequate and efficient personnel, properly organized and competently supervised.

Organized medical staff of ethical, competent physicians and surgeons.

Adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities under competent medical supervision.

Accurate, complete medical records, readily accessible for research and follow-up.

Regular group conferences of the administrative staff and of the medical staff for reviewing activities and results so as to maintain a high plane of scientific efficiency.

A humanitarian spirit—the primary consideration being the best care of the patient.

Bills Proposed in Legislature

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—State Senator Seymour Halpern today introduced legislation which he said was designed to improve conditions in the state's mental hospitals.

The Queens Republican, proposing state-aided, local psychiatric clinics as a means of relieving overcrowding in the mental hospitals, submitted bills to:

1. Establish a temporary state commission to investigate desirability of establishing or expanding local psychiatric facilities and to determine the amount of state aid needed to help localities support such clinics.

2. Permit classification of hospital attendants as psychiatric attendants in the junior professional group.

3. Place graduate nurses and hospital nurses in the professional services, with higher pay.

Halpern declared that local psychiatric facilities would "save," through early care and treatment, "countless" admissions to state mental hospitals.

"An example is the Grasslands Hospital in Westchester county, which, even with present treatment facilities, is able through intensive early treatment to save approximately 20 per cent of its psychiatric patients from certification to state mental hospitals," he asserted.

Other bills would: Initiate a constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to reconvene 30 days after an interim adjournment to vote on overriding votes by the governor. (Assemblyman Henry D. Coville, R-Oswego.)

Permit applicants denied admission to a tax-exempt, non-sectarian educational institution because of race, creed or color to seek, through the attorney general, removal of the institution's tax-exemption privileges. (Senator Louis L. Friedman, D-Brooklyn.)

Kiwanians Hear How Pigeons Were Used During War

Pigeons used in the nation's armed forces during World War 2 are credited with "delivering 98 per cent of the messages entrusted to them," Dr. Clement I. Angstrom told members of the local Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel, Thursday.

The speaker, who is in charge of the Kingston branch laboratory New York State Veterinary College, recounted details of his experience at a pigeon-training station during the war.

"The birds used in the wartime service are known as 'homers' or 'racing pigeons' and not as carriers. They fly at speeds from 40 to 45 miles an hour, he said, and can cover from 100 to 100 miles in daylight flight.

Some experiments were made with night-flying during the war, he reported, but they are known to be more reliable in daylight flight. It is possible, he explained, for some to achieve speeds as high as 70 miles an hour with the aid of tail winds.

One pigeon, "G.I. Joe," he said, was credited by the British in World War 2, with saving at least 1,000 lives as allied forces were fighting to gain an Italian town.

A message carried by another on October 4, 1918 during World War I, was responsible for stopping an American artillery barrage which caught the "lost battalion" in its range.

The nation couldn't have bred enough pigeons during World War 2 to handle the bulk of its message service, he said. They supplemented radio and telephone communications, however, in instances where complete secrecy was necessary.

They were helpful also in fifth-column operations and behind the lines. Planes, tanks and other patrol units carried them to deliver headquarters messages in the event of emergencies, he said.

William F. Lechive, president of the club, announced that the Kiwanians would meet with the Lions and Rotary clubs next Tuesday in the Governor Clinton Hotel when Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy will be guest of honor in observance of his 40 years of service with the local fire department.

Many guests from out of the city were introduced at the session, and one of them was from as far away as Huron, South Dakota.

The guest speaker was introduced by Hubert Hoderath, chairman of the program committee.

Bishop Oxnam Says Churches Must Unite

Philadelphia, Jan. 30 (AP)—Unification of all churches into one body is imperative in order to "meet the impact of totalitarianism," says Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of New York, secretary of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church.

In an address before the annual meeting of the Department of Woman's Work of the Philadelphia Council of Churches yesterday, Bishop Oxnam predicted such a unification among the larger Protestant Churches of the world would be "consummated within a decade."

"We're making such progress in that direction," he added, "that we are astounded."

Navy Sells Butter

Oakland, Calif., Jan. 30 (AP)—The Navy sold 73,000 pounds of butter today at 18½ cents a pound. But it was more than two years old. Returned recently from Saipan, it was labeled by the Department of Agriculture as unfit for human consumption. The Peterson Tallow Company of Oakland bought it.

Right or Wrong, It's All Same on This Test

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—Parents of New York city high school students have protested that a recent state regents history exam was too tough for the youngsters.

But difficulties posed by the test were taken into consideration, Assistant Superintendent of Schools William A. Hamm said. Students were given the benefit of the doubt if they gave any sort of reasonable answers.

For instance, Hamm explained, if they were asked to name "two ancient sports" and replied "Anthony and Cleopatra," they got full credit.

Governor's Budget To Be Presented To Legislature

Document Is Expected at 6 Tonight; Total Is Highest in State History

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—Governor Dewey will present to the New York Legislature tonight a 1948-49 budget expected to total $750,000,000—highest in the history of the state.

The document, with an accompanying message, will be delivered at 6 o'clock.

Nearly all of the legislators have gone home for the week-end and there will be only a handful, if any—lawmakers present for the occasion.

Today is technically a legislative working day, and thus the Legislature legally may receive the governor's estimates of expenditures and revenues, plus his printed comments.

Helping to boost the budget to an all-time high will be recommended salary increases for state employees, and substantial boosts in appropriations for welfare, mental hygiene institutions and school districts.

The Democratic minority in the legislature is expected to seize upon the budget in search of ammunition to continue the party's attack on Dewey for his fiscal policies.

Twice this week the Democratic leaders have attacked Dewey. In the initial assault they called him the most "wasteful" and "extravagant" governor in the state's history.

In a follow-up they termed him New York's "champion fiscal juggler" and accused him of "parsimony" toward municipalities.

Republican legislative leaders replied that the Democrats, on orders from the White House, were trying to tear down Dewey as a presidential prospect. The governor is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Garment Workers Contribute $155.90 To March of Dimes

Members of Local 259, International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union have contributed $155.90 to the 1948 March of Dimes campaign as their part in raising $500 which is the goal of the I.L.G.W.U. for Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Newburgh.

Through arrangements with the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, the I.L.G.W.U. annually participates by staging its own campaign. Total contributions on a national basis are forwarded to the National Foundation and sums are then allocated to the counties which give full credit to the local chapters in the area in which contributions are collected.

Last year the union contributed $85,000 to aid in the fight against polio and hopes are that last year's mark will be topped by the time final returns are in.

Local factories aiding in the

I.L.G.W.U. campaign drive so far include the following: King Dress Co., $75; Ladylyk Sportswear, $19.25; State Sportswear, Saugerties, $18; Colonial Knitwear, $14; Halpern Mfg. Co., $13.90; Ladylyk Sportswear, East Kingston, $8.50; and Streifer Blouse, $7.25.

The Young Women's group in the Presbyterian Church will sponsor the showing of the film, "Beyond Our Own" in the church hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

The local W.C.T.U., Mrs. James Scott, president, has circulated a petition and sent it to Senator J. W. Washington, requesting Congress to take action on curtailing the liquor advertisements in papers, magazines and radio.

Jacob Schuhle is ill at his home. Mrs. Paul Maroldt slipped and fell last week near her home and suffered two broken bones in one arm.

Court Nilan members are invited to an anniversary banquet of Court Patricia, Newburgh, at Hotel Newburgh, February 9. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Mary Ose by February 2.

The February meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held Friday afternoon, February 6, with the president, Mrs. Charles L. DuBois, Maple avenue, hostess for the afternoon are Mrs. Parker Decker, Mrs. Harry B. Cotant, Mrs. Isaac Cummings, Mrs. Robert Cummings, and Mrs. DuBois.

The Highland Council of Church Women met with the president, Mrs. Herbert Greenland in the Methodist parsonage January 20. Mrs. Heston Woolsey, vice-president, conducted a devotional meditation on present day spiritual problems. She also reported for the Church World Service committee that 50 baby kimono were completed and shipped. She planned for future work, local and overseas, with the assistance of Mrs. Leon Burnett and Mrs. Jacob Schuhle, of the relief sewing committee. Articles and garments for shipping may be left with any of the committee or at the churches. Mrs. Greenland appointed a committee to act with her for the annual World Day of Prayer at 3 o'clock February 13 in the Presbyterian Church. Those asked to assist are Mrs. Woolsey, Mrs. Leslie Lindhe, Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb, Mrs. Philip Wilklow. By majority vote the council decided that the May luncheon be a desert luncheon. It will be held in the Presbyterian Church hall May 6. The future of the council is to be presented to all church groups of the community and affiliated Jewish women for consideration in the near future. The council has been a purely local affair growing out of the fellowship of the May luncheon, where representatives of all religious faiths gathered to hear noted speakers on women's spiritual task in the world. It was the one movement in the community which drew people together to share vital needs common to all. Due to a number of reasons the time seems to have come when this fellowship of seven years must be reconsidered. The president was asked to procure literature on the National Conference of Christians and Jews and on the United Council of Church Women so that the groups whose representatives have made up the voting strength of the local council may express their choice with definite information in case it seems wise to all to dissolve the present council. The Rev. Oscar Jelama and the Rev. Herbert Greenland were invited by the president to give their views on this possible change in the religious life of the community. The meeting was adjourned until the third Tuesday in April.

Mrs. Stockholm Baldwin and Malcolm DuBois, both residents of Tillson avenue, reported last week of seeing bluebirds perched on limbs of trees in the rear of their homes. The Evening Study group will meet Monday evening with Mrs. Mears and Mrs. Heston Woolsey at the home of Mrs. Mears. Mrs. Edgar Boyce, Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb and Mrs. Heston Woolsey attending the executive meeting of North River Presbyterian held in Poughkeepsie last week. John Taranta and William J. Upright spent Wednesday in Albany.

Police Report Shows Fewer Car Accidents in Past Year

Kingston had fewer automobile accidents in 1947 than in 1946, a comparison of the accident report submitted last week by Acting Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren with that of the previous year discloses.

In 1947 this city had 73 accidents, one of which was a fatal accident, the report shows, while in 1946 there were 80 accidents and three fatalities. However, in 1947 a total of 105 persons were injured in traffic accidents, compared with 96 injured in 1946.

105 Persons Injured
Of the total 105 persons injured in 1947, 14 were between the age group of 35 to 44 years, the report discloses, 13 were between 25 and 34 years of age, and 11 were between 45 and 54 years old. Ages were not stated for 30 of the persons injured.

Of the children injured, five were under four years old, 9 were between five and nine years of age, six were between 10 and 14 years old, and three were between 15 and 19 years old, the 1947 report states.

Of the total of 73 accidents last year, 48 were in daylight hours and 25 in darkness. The one fatality occurred in darkness, between 3 and 4 a. m. Over half of the accidents were in residential districts, with most of the remainder in shopping or business districts.

5 Cyclists Involved
Five of those injured were riding bicycles, 24 were pedestrians, and the rest were passengers in automobiles.

A total of 118 drivers were involved in accidents. Of these, 107 were male, seven were female, and two, according to the report, were not stated.

The following table shows the age group of the drivers involved in accidents in this city in 1947:

Some folks call it a gas bill . . . some an electric bill. It's neither! It's a penny bill — a lot of daily labor-saving jobs costing you a penny each, wrapped up in one package and sent to you every 60 days.*

Let's look at some of these daily penny-jobs you're buying for your home:

Runs a sewing machine

all afternoon

Keeps a refrigerator cold

7 hours

Vacuum cleans

10 large rugs

Lights a 100-watt lamp bulb

3 hours—most of an evening

Runs the washer for

6 tubs of clothes

Gives you the correct time for a solid week

Keeps a radio playing for

3 hours—most of an evening

In most ways, a penny doesn't go very far these days . . .
but it's still BIG MONEY around your house!

*Or you may pay each month, if you desire. People in any Central Hudson office will tell you how.

Chazy Man Chosen By Horticultural Society as Head

Donald Green of Chazy was elected president of the New York State Horticultural Society yesterday at its convention here. He replaces Carl G. Wooster of Union Hill.

Other officers elected were: A. W. Densmore, Albion, vice president; and Daniel M. Dufresne, Lockport, secretary and treasurer.

New directors elected are: Gerald G. Maier, Middleport and Horace Putnam, Lockport.

Attendance this year at the eastern meeting in this city "surpassed that of last year considerably." It was learned today from a spokesman for the society.

The convention committee is expected to decide this afternoon on whether next year's eastern meeting will return to this city. This year marked the 93rd convention year for the society and its eastern session has been held in Kingston for about 15 successive years. It was held for a number of years previously at Poughkeepsie.

Stuart Hubbard of Poughkeepsie was chairman of the opening session this morning at which A. B. Burrell of Cornell University conducted a question box.

Dr. Richard Bradford, Department of Agronomy, Ithaca, talked on "Our Soil Is Our Heritage. It Is Our Future," and Dr. H. B. Tukey, Department of Horticulture, Michigan State College of Agriculture, talked on "New Things in Fruit Growing" in that state.

The eastern meeting was scheduled to close with a forum this afternoon on prospects for the fruit grower in the Hudson valley.

N. Y. Central Has Diesels for City

9 Locomotives Expected Soon at North Yard

Diesel locomotives will soon be placed in service on the Catskill Mountain and Wallkill Valley branches of the New York Central System, it was announced today.

Nine new 1,000 horsepower diesel "roadswitchers" are expected to arrive at the North Yard of the West Shore railroad in the early part of February. These locomotives will gradually replace the steam engines now in use on the two branches, and will also handle some of the switching service locally.

Changes will be made at the North Yard engine house where four stalls will be remodeled to handle service on the diesel power, but no change is contemplated in the roundhouse personnel.

the city, and responded to 38 emergency calls other than fire, he said.

Included in his annual report was a report of building permits issued during the year, which discloses that 623 permits for building alterations and repairs were issued, with a total estimated cost of $1,000,000.

The chief concluded his report by expressing his thanks to the members of the paid fire department for their cooperation and efficient service. "I am especially grateful for your volunteering your service while off duty to counter any emergency," he said.

To the officers and members of the volunteer department, he expressed his most sincere appreciation for their cooperation and loyalty. You are rendering a most valuable service to the citizens of Kingston, a service for which they should feel grateful," Chief Murphy said.

He added his thanks to former Mayor William F. Edolmuth, the fire commissioners, the Common Council, the city departments and the citizens of Kingston "for their cooperation during the year."

The word "Nevada" is Spanish, and means "snow-clad."

Horticulturists Hold Banquet

Highlighting the three-day eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society in Kingston the convention delegates gathered at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday evening for the annual banquet and heard speeches by a number of prominent men. ## Ulster to Begin

Weber, superintendent of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, and several other physicians and members of the local health committees of Wawarsing, Saugerties and other townships to make plans to assist in the development of this mass chest X-ray program.

Cooperating in the mass chest X-ray program, which will be sponsored by the County Health Department in connection with the State Health Department, will be the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Call to Be Provided

A mobile X-ray unit will be provided by the State Department and an endeavor will be made to have all the residents of the township of Wawarsing X-rayed during the March campaign. There will be no cost for this service and it is hoped that at least 85 per cent of the total population in the township will be contacted.

The work of getting the people of the township to attend the clinic and have chest X-rays taken will be undertaken by a local committee from the township, members of which were in attendance at the conference Thursday evening at the Kingston Laboratory when the plan was outlined.

The program is a part of the state's endeavor to eradicate tuberculosis within the state in 20 years.

Dr. George James, county commissioner of health, presided at the meeting, outlined the program and explained that only through a mass survey of this kind was it possible to locate persons who may either be afflicted with tuberculosis or through contacts become future sufferers. By detection in the early stages it was pointed out the disease could be controlled by rest and medication while if the disease was allowed to run a course and the person became seriously affected, only hospitalization and possibly surgery would aid and if permitted to continue untreated there was no help. Through early detection and isolation or treatment by the family physician the spread of the disease to others can be prevented.

It is the detection of the disease in its early stage that makes mass X-ray surveys most valuable.

Spreads on Detection

Dr. W. Allen Longshore, deputy commissioner, spoke on the value of detection of the disease before it has advanced to the active stage and the elimination of contact with those who have the disease in active form. By elimination of contacts through hospitalization in an advanced stage, the disease can be controlled through an educational program carried out through the family physician and treatment by the physician many people who might contract the disease can be spared. It is detection of the positive cases and the elimination of contacts from such active cases that can best control the spread of the disease, and Dr. Longshore pointed out that this was one of the chief objects of a mass chest study.

Dr. Nauen stated that it was the hope of the state department that at least 85 per cent of the population of Wawarsing would be X-rayed. In many instances there are no symptoms in the early stages which are recognized by the person as those of tuberculosis. A mass X-ray discloses these cases and permits early treatment. He reviewed the work which is being done in New York where we have got to make a decision.

The next two years, said the commissioner, "are going to tell the story," whether New York apple growers will go the way of Virginia and produce apples for cooking or follow the methods of the west and raise quality apples for the fresh market.

It is up to growers to decide "to put up a package the fresh market can use," he declared, "and unless you are willing to sell it for what it is, you might as well forget it and put it in processing plants."

The commissioner warned that unless we sell what we raise for just what it is as the law says we must, "he will act in his official capacity. "If it is up to me to enforce these laws, I shall do it."

The speaker paid tribute to former Secretary McPherson, and called upon Daniel M. Dufresne, of Lockport, his successor to carry on with his work. A message from the former secretary, who was unable to attend was read by the new secretary.

While news of the world today is "harsh and embittered," Snyder, the guest speaker said, he saw no immediate cause for fear of a frontal war with Russia.

"Let us not surrender in abject fear that Russia is going to take over the world," he advised. The United States and Great Britain, he said, currently control 85 per cent of all chemicals necessary for the conduct of a war, but there are threats of a great war trouble from sources other than Russia.

The world knows, the speaker said, that the United States has never used the atomic bomb in its full power, and the world of science knows that "solar radiation is the new weapon we are reaching for."

Meanwhile, the speaker stressed, "mismanagement of the soil is as dangerous as mismanagement of atomic energy," and much of the misery of China and India has been "traced to the misery of the soil."

Such rivers as the Hudson, he said, are life-taking as well as life-giving and erosion can be as "dreadfully as explosion."

A "dramatic truth in the news of the hour," said the speaker, is that "all of Russia is marching in her new search for an empire," and is out for "earth conquest."

This, as in other instances, he said, is the result of "misguided leadership."

All India with its hungry millions is seething, he declared, as "all China with its millions, is awakening," and at this point America appears to be just "peeping."

The speaker described the Marshall Plan, which he felt should be known as "the mercy plan," as "a very dangerous business we are undertaking." We must guard against wanton waste, he warned, and we should demand "examples of industry" for the effort.

In his "pre-writing of the news," the speaker predicted that the next occupant of the White House will have an "E" in his name. A cycle of vibrant words ending in Y, has just ended, he said, and those of 1948, will be words ending in E.

These will include shortage, wage, income, inflate, Greece, Trieste, Palestine.

Submarine will be an important word in 1948, as will plane and isotope. The submarine particularly, he said, "is going to do something in 1948."

New York state will experience mild earthquakes during the year, he said, and the nation may have more serious quakes.

The speaker urged his listeners to continue working and living with optimism and without fears and misgivings as he stressed that the great "need for America is good will and good work."

Robert Coy of Ardonia was interviewed before the gathering by Edmund R. Bower, Ulster County 4-H Club Agent, to demonstrate the work and progress of a typical and successful 4-H Club member.

Virginia Kahelin of Athens, Greene County, winner of the 4-H Club apple pie-making contest, was introduced to the members.

The banquet committee was headed by Gerow Schoonmaker and the other members were Albert Kurdt, Walter Baran and E. Stuart Hubbard.

County Court Monday

Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock the February trial term of County Court will be convened with County Judge John M. Cashin presiding. The first two weeks will be devoted to trial of civil cases. Criminal matters will be taken up after the disposition of civil matters. There are 26 civil cases on the calendar. A trial jury will be in attendance.

Corbett Says T-H Law Is Only Foundation for Solution

The Taft-Hartley law is merely a foundation for solution but no present panacea for the nation's labor problem, Roger B. Corbett, associate dean of the University of Maryland, told members of the New York State Horticultural Society yesterday at its convention in the state armory here.

The speaker said he felt that labor organizations have as much right as farm and bank organizations to exist, but an ironing-out process is necessary.

Current labor moves to defeat the bill will bring issues to the courts for solution and this process, he felt, is better for the nation.

Labor has been frank, he said, in avowing its intentions to make the law ineffective by defeating its proponents at the polls, by amendments, violations and court moves.

All violators, however, he declared, should be held to court as the bill stands, and here he stressed the point that fruit and vegetable growers are among those who suffer through tie-ups, excessive unloading charges and other high-pressure activities of labor.

The speaker held it a responsibility of the fruit growers to teach the younger people the meaning of the price drop such as that in the early "thirties."

1,500,000 to Strike

Hamburg, Germany, Jan. 30 (AP)—More than 1,500,000 German clerical workers in the British Zone will strike Tuesday, trade union headquarters announced today. The workers demand special ration cards giving them the same status as heavy workers. More than 86 per cent of the Office Workers' Union voted in favor of the strike. Other trade unions in the British-occupied Ruhr and Rhineland met at Muelheim to discuss a protest strike against food shortages which may involve 3,000,000 German workers.

Meters Take Dimes Today for Infantile

Today, the climax day of the 1948 March of Dimes campaign, members of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association are cooperating with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis by making it possible for persons to contribute by placing their dimes in Kingston's parking meters.

All motorists are urged, when they park at a meter, to drop an extra dime into the slot today. The city treasurer will forward all dimes found among the meter receipts to the March of Dimes fund, President Kenneth Hyatt of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association has announced.

All members of the Patrolmen's Association have been asked to remind motorists of this easy way of contributing to aid the victims of infantile paralysis. The meters are in force until 9 o'clock tonight, and donations may be made up until that time.

Russian Says 206 Citizens in Prison In German Zone

Berlin, Jan. 30 (AP)—Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky, the Soviet military governor, charged today in a Soviet-published letter that 206 Soviet citizens are imprisoned in the U. S. zone of Germany. He demanded their immediate release.

Thirty of them, the letter said, are under sentence of death.

The letter appeared in the official Soviet newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau, only a few hours before the Allied Control Council was scheduled to meet. The council announced a short time later it had postponed its meeting until tomorrow.

Sokolovsky's letter was dated January 23 and addressed to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor. It charged the Soviet citizens are being held at Straubing, Lower Bavaria.

Gen. Clay said he had not received it.

Sokolovsky's letter said all the prisoners had asked to be returned to the Soviet Union. He charged U. S. authorities with violating an agreement of repatriation of Soviet war prisoners and civilians. The Soviet citizens, he declared, were not permitted defense facilities and were sentenced arbitrarily.

A bishop was invited to dinner. During the meal he was astonished to hear the young daughter of the house state that a person must be very brave these days to go to church.

One Sunday afternoon my husband was helping me kill flies. "How many have you caught?" I asked. After awhile, "Six," replied my husband. "How many and three females?" "How absurd!" I sniffed. "How can you tell if they are males or females?" I asked. "Why, that's easy, my dear," he retorted. "Three were sitting on the sugar and three on the mirror." —Mrs. J.R.M.

Questions—Answers

Q—Who was the father of history?
A—Cicero gave this title to Herodotus, Greek historian who lived about 400 B.C.

Q—What is meant by "clock stopping" in Congress?
A—In Congress and also in state legislatures where there is a time limit on the length of session, there often remains "must" legislation. It is then customary to stop the clock to preserve a semblance of law observance.

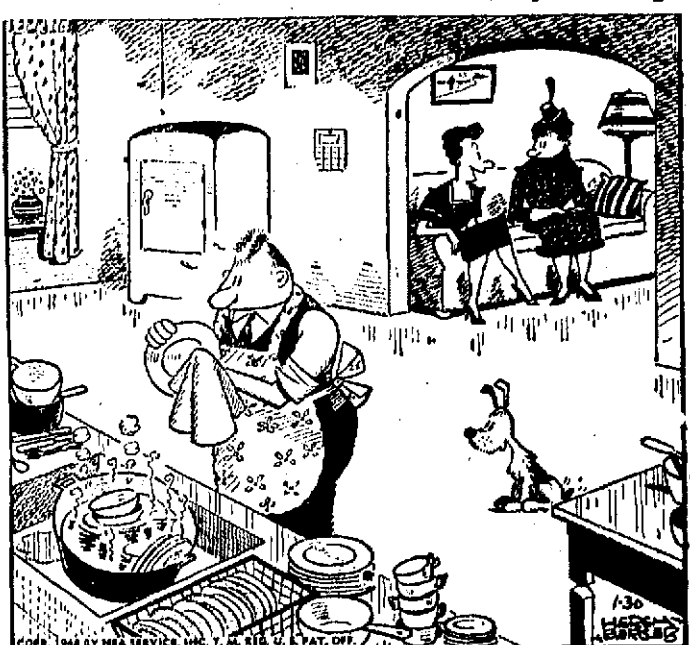

Q—When were italics first used?
A—Italics were first used about 1500 by the printer Manutius in Venice, where his Aldine press brought out in 1501 the now rare "Verghil," set up in this form of type.

Q—Where was land once measured by how far a man was able to walk?

A—In 1682 William Penn purchased from the Delaware Indians a tract of land extending into the back country as far as a man could walk in a day and a half. Penn and the Indians covered about 30 miles.

Democrats Refuse to Show Concern Over 'Revolt' in Dixie

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—Democratic leaders refused to show nervousness today about a rising Dixie revolt against the policies of President Truman.

They insisted that harsh words from Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina are no sign there is going to be a sort of "second secession."

The Solid South may continue to complain about anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and non-color-line talk from the White House, they conceded privately. But they said it still will go solidly Democratic when the Presidential election comes in November.

At Columbia, S. C., 49 members of the South Carolina legislature got into the act yesterday.

They told the State Democratic Committee affairs have reached the point where "we should reconsider our position in the national party."

They said they were not suggesting that the state's Democrats withdraw from the national organization. However, they declared, it is time to "take stock and review our position."

They said the national organization has made a habit of granting concessions "to the sections of the country not in the bag," to those minority groups which often are the outspoken advocates of the very things flagrantly repugnant to our views.

In Washington, Mr. Truman himself headed the list of Democrats who seemed to think there is more smoke than fire in southern threats to veer away from his leadership.

Anybody who wants to make a headline, he told a White House news conference yesterday, can get it by attacking the President.

Mr. Truman was referring specifically to the announcement of Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama that he is a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Every politician knows Mr. Truman has that sword up, if he wants it. So Folsom's move added up to a protest against Mr. Truman's plea that Congress set up a commission to prevent race discrimination on jobs, ban the poll tax and make lynching a federal offense.

Gov. Folsom, L. Wright of Mississippi recently blasted the President for plunging that sort of legislation. In his state, there has even been talk of "seceding" from the Democratic party—of picking Presidential electors who might vote for somebody besides the President.

In a close race with the Republican nominee, any successful

Mohandas Gandhi

a bomb which damaged a wall but did not hurt Gandhi.

Bystanders said the assassin had mingled with the crowd at the prayer meeting. He was inconspicuous in khaki clothing which might have come from army surplus stores. Suddenly, it was said, he drew a pistol and fired three times.

Gandhi undertook the recent fast against the advice of his physicians. He went without food for five days.

The effects of his gesture became noticeable at once. Peace, however uneasy, settled over New Delhi. Two days later, January 21, the bomb exploded near Birla House.

Leniency Was Asked

Gandhi asked police to be lenient with the young Hindu who threw it.

"We should not harbor hatred," he said. "I will request the police not to trouble him but to have compassion toward him and make him see the righteous path."

Even as he spoke, the Hindu spiritual leader was too weak to walk from the effects of his long fast. He had been carried to that prayer meeting on a chair.

At one of his last prayer meetings, Gandhi asked Gandhi to proclaim himself a reincarnation of God. Gandhi laughed. The speaker persisted and Gandhi, becoming impatient, told him to sit down and be quiet.

Gandhi had laid down a seven-point program as a formula for sparing his own life through ending his fast.

He required that Hindus should fraternize with Muslims on the next Mohammedan festival as in the old days. He asked that Mosques which had been converted into Hindu temples or dwelling places be returned to their original uses.

He recommended that Muslims be made to feel as safe as they had before India's bloody riots, that those Muslims who fled to Mosques which had been converted into Hindu temples or dwelling places be returned to their original uses.

When he ended the fast, Gandhi said he was convinced that the plague of harmony given him by Indian religious leaders would set the country back on the road to peace.

Leads 400,000,000

The frail and emaciated Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi led India's 400,000,000 people to his cherished goal of freedom from British crown rule, but the reward he received was bitter sorrow and disappointment. For the cause he had endured prisons and fasts. His favorite weapons for rousing the masses were civil disobedience campaigns and hunger strikes.

In his own eyes, the little Hindu ascetic was a failure at the hour of his greatest victory, because freedom divided his country into two hostile dominions: the had sought a unified, independent India and plunked his people into frightful communal fighting—Sikh and Hindu against Mohammedan—which had marred the last several centuries of the sub-continent's long and blood-stained history.

On his 78th birthday in 1947, the year of attainment of Indian dominion status, Gandhi said he had almost lost all desire to live longer because "what is the use of living when hatred and killing have marred the atmosphere?"

Yet the world saw the unpretentious figure, clad in white (torn cloth, ashwa) and sandals, as that of one of the great men of his time. No mogul or emperor ever had more power in India than Gandhi, who, without rank or post, played on the heart-strings of a people to win their leadership in prison or out he was the country's most potent figure for more than a quarter century.

Had Detractors, Too

His fellow Hindus regarded him as a saint on earth. He once had to act swiftly and strongly to stop a section of them found adding his image to their long list of gods and worshiping idols.

But he was not without detractors. In 1942, Gandhi was denounced as an "arch saboteur" by L. S. Amery, British secretary of state for India, because of his civil

Official Is Thankful Assassin Not Moslem

London, Jan. 30 (AP)—A government official said today almost anything might happen in the Indian subcontinent as a result of Mohandas K. Gandhi's death, but observed: "Thank God, the assassin was not a Moslem, or all India certainly would break loose."

This official, who spent many years in British government service in India, said authorities there would have to move fast to keep the situation in hand.

disobedience campaign launched while Japanese invasion forces stood at the threshold in Burma during World War 2. Winston Churchill strongly opposed independence for India, forecasting "blood and misery."

Even in India Gandhi had his foes. More than once stones were cast at him by Indians who were rebellious against his teachings that only through love and non-violence could any lasting victory be won.

But friends and foe agreed that Gandhi above all others was responsible for plucking India, known as "the Jewel of the Empire," from the British crown.

"Architect of Freedom"

India was divided into an independent Moslem dominion (Pakistan) and a Hindu dominion (India). Earl Mountbatten, governor-general of the latter, referred to Gandhi as the "architect" of freedom. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, a Gandhi disciple who became prime minister of the Dominion of India, praised him as the "great soul who launched the freedom movement and guided us through the dark period of our struggle."

Fulfillment of Gandhi's dream of freedom saw him weep with sorrow, for freedom meant the division of his country whereas he had wanted it unified. However, convinced that nothing but division would permit a peaceful transfer of power, Gandhi consented to it and it was his word which convinced holdouts among his followers that they also should consent.

When savage communal fighting which had marked the political maneuverings between Congress Party and Moslem League reached unbelievable fury after the division, Gandhi wept, about him he saw conflict, poverty and ruin.

At a time when he had hoped to enjoy the fruits of his freedom victory he trudged through tropical countryside in Bengal, Noakhali, Bihar and elsewhere, his cracked feet staining his sandals with blood as he preached his gospel of truth and love, and comforted the victims of the riots.

Spent 12 Years in Prisons

He saw the bodies of men, women and children cruelly slain in those places and in New Delhi. No matter what the world thought of his work, the evidence of violence convinced Gandhi that he had failed in striving for a goal he considered even greater than attainment of freedom—the teaching of his legions of followers to love their enemies as they did their friends.

Everywhere Gandhi was recognized as the master strategist of the Indian independence movement and the engineer of passive resistance and civil disobedience movements which had such an important part in the maneuverings toward independence.

For these and other activities he spent 12 years in prisons and underwent long fasts which sometimes endangered his life.

His Indian followers were counted in the tens of millions, and they gave him devotion difficult for the western mind to understand. In his 1942 passive resistance campaign thousands upon thousands of them courted beatings, imprisonment and confiscation of their properties at his simple call to rise.

Lawyer by Profession

Until the early days of freedom he had influence almost like that of an orchestra leader, firing the people's nationalist spirit or calming them by his call alone. After freedom he once commented that "the time was when whatever I said the Indian masses followed, but today mine is a lone voice."

Gandhi stepped into the world's consciousness from the background of a promising practice as a London-educated young lawyer, after early training in his native India. From London he went to South Africa where he championed Indians and people of Indian descent in their fight for equal rights, and there organized his first civil disobedience campaign and had his first taste of jail for political activity.

When he returned to India in 1915 he ranked alongside C. R. Das in the Indian nationalist movement and upon Das' death in 1925 became the recognized leader of the nationalists.

In India as in South Africa he led crusades against conditions which he considered oppressive, but he was loyal to the British crown until Viceroy Lord Linlithgow in September, 1939, declared India at war with the Axis without consulting any Indian legislative body.

Promoted Disobedience

Gandhi's reply was a war-time civil disobedience campaign with independence as its objective. He had halted prior civil disobedience campaigns when his people broke away from his teachings of non-violence, but this time he allowed it to run its course, and it was a course marked by bloodshed.

In July of 1942 Gandhi demanded that Britain hand over the government of India to the Indians and then withdrew. The British regarded his political activity as hampering India's resistance to Japan. He was arrested in August when the British government adopted a resolution advocating civil obedience and Indian independence, but instead of being placed in jail the little leader was held in the Aga Khan's ornate palace at Poona. It was the sixth time he had been imprisoned.

"I always get the best bargains from behind prison bars," he once said.

His hunger strikes often brought about compromises, for the British feared public reaction in event of his death through fasting.

He was interned in the palace for 21 months and then released. His failing health was given as the reason.

Long Hunger Strike

During that period he went on a 21-day hunger strike in protest against the "leoline violence" which he accused the government of using to suppress the civil disobedience campaign, and against the policy of locking up members of the All-India Congress party. On only two of his eight previous fasts since 1918 had he gone that long without food.

Lord Linlithgow tried to dissuade Gandhi from his fast at Poona because of his poor health. He characterized it as "political blackmail for which there can be no moral justification."

When Gandhi was released from internment he wanted to know what the war situation was. Medical advisers tried to persuade him to rest, but the world's little man remonstrated: "Let me know what is going on around me. If I am to die, let me not die an ignorant man."

Death of His Wife

His fasts were for various causes—for penance, for protest, for attempts to bring about reforms. Two were announced at the start as being "unto death." In 1947 he fasted for three days in protest of the Hindu-Muslim strife in Calcutta. That was his tenth last to rest, but the world's little man remonstrated: "Let me know what is going on around me. If I am to die, let me not die an ignorant man."

During his confinement in the Aga Khan's palace, his wife of 61 years died. She had been in internment with him. Gandhi's wife was called "the woman nobody knows."

They were married when both were 13 under what the Indian leader once described as "the cruel custom of child marriage." By the time she was 18 she had borne three children. After the birth of their fourth son their relationship, at Gandhi's suggestion, became a brother and sister.

Gandhi was born Oct. 2, 1869, at Porbander and was reared in an anti-British atmosphere. His father, who had been premier of several small native states, once went to jail rather than apologize to a British commissioner he had taken to task in public.

Stimson Gives Eye-Witness Story Of Gandhi Slaying

London, Jan. 30 (AP)—Robert Stimson, B.B.C. correspondent, witnessed the assassination of Mohandas Gandhi.

He cable these impressions: "The shots did not sound very loud—they reminded me of firecrackers. When they were fired, Gandhi fell back."

"Immediately after this I saw some of Gandhi's entourage grappling with a heavy set man in a khaki bush coat. He had blood on him, no doubt from wounds inflicted by his assassins."

"Gandhi was picked up by some of his followers and carried into a back room," Stimson said. "Suddenly realization of what had happened swept through the crowd and a terrific cry of grief arose."

"The crowd of four or five hundred people waited with a grief most moving to see," Stimson said. "Men and women wept and beat their breasts."

Gandhi had arrived a few minutes late for his prayer meeting. But when he walked across the lawn from Birla House, Stimson said, "he was looking healthier and brighter than he had since his recent fast."

"He was supported by two members of his entourage," Stimson said. "He reported Gandhi had just mounted the covered dais from which he conducted his prayer meetings and the crowd was pressing round him when the shots were fired."

Gandhi Reaction

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—President Truman, gripped over the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi, today was said to regard the Indian leader's death as "a tragic loss to the whole world."

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross, who described Mr. Truman's feelings upon hearing news of Gandhi's death, said the President is drafting a statement to be made available later in the day.

Churchill Shocked

London, Jan. 30 (AP)—Winston Churchill said today of the Gandhi assassination: "I am shocked at this wicked crime."

Churchill's seven-word statement was issued through his Conservative party's headquarters. Churchill many times has attacked the Attlee government's handling of the Indian situation, and warned that the granting of dominion status to India and Pakistan would bring violence.

'Great Disaster'

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—India's prime minister, Jawaharlal Nehru, describes the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi as a "great disaster" for all India. Radio said today, NBC monitored the broadcast.

The dominion leader, his voice heavy with emotion, announced the body will be cremated in accordance with Gandhi's wish, "the broadcast said. The body will be taken from Birla House tomorrow at 11:30 a. m. Indian time (1.5 p. m. eastern standard time) and cremation will be at 4 p. m. Nehru designated Saturday as a day of fasting and prayer for all India.

78th Birthday Statement

New Delhi, Jan. 30 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi said on his 78th birthday October 2: "With every breath I pray God to give me strength to quench the flames of communal strife in India) or remove me from this earth. I, who had staked my life to gain India's independence, do not wish to be a living witness to its destruction."

Special Tribute Paid

New Delhi, Jan. 30 (AP)—The last person to whom Mohandas K. Gandhi spoke before he entered the Poona jail in 1932 was James A. Mills, widely traveled Associated Press reporter. The first to greet him when he was freed 17 months later was Mills. "Why, Mr. Mills, Gandhi exclaimed, "if I should die, start to enter heaven, I should expect to see you waiting to interview me at the gates!" Mills died in 1942. Gandhi paid him a special tribute.

Fear Four Are Dead In St. Albans Fire

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 30 (AP)—Four persons were feared dead and at least 12 others were injured early today in a fire which swept the 136-year-old Jesse Welden Inn, causing damage estimated at more than $200,000.

Fire Chief R. H. Sweeney, who estimated damage, said four persons unaccounted for may have perished in the fire.

He added that firemen as yet have been unable to enter the ruins for a search.

Several of the nearly 100 guests in the 73-room hotel escaped by beating their way through flames or leaping from windows in 16 below zero temperatures.

Saturday Is Final Day for '47 Tags; No Rush at Bureau

Saturday is the last day motor cars may appear on the highways with the 1947 license plates. All cars after January 31 must display the new 1948 tags on both front and rear. This is the first time since the single plate was adopted during war days that New York state motorists have been required to display two tags.

The need for plates on the front of motor vehicles has created a big demand for front plate license brackets and several automobile accessory stores which sold them have exhausted their stocks several times. Late comers have been advised that a new stock will be available soon. Meanwhile, car owners whose cars are not provided with a front license bracket are devising numerous makeshifts.

At the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau office on Main street this morning there was a steady demand for plates but the long line of cars waiting for tags was not as long as it was last week. The custom of mailing out application blanks to car owners has apparently eliminated this last minute rush since many applications are now received by mail. Others who come to the office for plates have already filled out their application and the delay has been lessened.

Defeat of the Schuman government at this time could lead to dissolving the assembly and election of new deputies, possibly including some from the R.P.F. Many Frenchmen think that would mean de Gaulle's return to the premiership. He held it right after the liberation.

Another Tanker Stuck in River

130,000 Gallons Kerosene Held Up En Route to Albany

The tanker New York loaded with 130,000 gallons of kerosene en route to Albany was icebound in the Hudson river two miles south of the Port Ewen lighthouse today, awaiting the arrival of Coast Guard aid to break a channel.

This information was imparted by Irving Maurer of Port Ewen, chief engineer on the converted Navy LST after he had walked ashore on a four-foot thick ice coating the river.

"We had no trouble until we reached Port Ewen," he told a reporter. "This is always a bad area for boatmen, because the ice breaks and piles up in the shallow water. The ship New York left Port Socony, S. I., Thursday at noon."

Maurer said the East Wind, a 63,000-ton coast guard ice breaker was expected to arrive to aid his vessel about 7 p. m.

The New York and the Albany, two Trailerships, Inc., boats were put into commission as oil carriers upon icebreaking duty in the city of Albany, which is in need of fuel. Both vessels are used to transport automobiles, but are fitted to carry oil also.

The Albany, which was stuck in the ice in this area Tuesday, arrived with 90,000 gallons of kerosene Wednesday night. It was pumped out and the ship started back to the New York harbor section for another load.

A number of Kingston boatmen and others residing in this area are in the employ of Trailerships, Inc. Captain Fred Parslow of Kingston is captain of the Albany. George Carroll of Newburgh captained the New York. Local men in his crew are Irving Maurer, chief engineer; James Malone, engineer; Robert Fish of Port Ewen; John Golgoaski, Kingston, cook; Thomas Bradley and John McGowan of Kingston.

Highland Fire Investigation Is Delayed by Debris

Investigation of the fire at Highland which damaged three brick store buildings Wednesday, is still hampered by piles of debris in the cellar where the blaze started, Fire Chief William H. Maynard said today.

Corp Arthur Reilly of the state police B.C.I. joined Chief Maynard in the investigation when it was learned that the building had been entered and from $15 to $20 in change taken from the cash register of the hardware store of Walter R. Seaman.

It was reported also that an auto owned by a Marlborough fireman had been taken while he was assisting in fighting the blaze and was recovered later about two miles from the scene.

Whether the fire had been started by the person or persons who apparently entered the building on the night of the fire.

Chief Maynard said today that a stream was still being played on the debris in the cellar of the Seaman building, and that it was impossible to get into that area until after most of the debris is removed.

The fire which was discovered at about 11:30 p. m. Wednesday, burned for several hours, and badly damaged the Seaman building and two other adjacent structures.

Derailed Snowplow Holds Up Service

Service into Kingston over the West Shore Railroad from Weehawken was disrupted Thursday morning by the derailment of a snowplow at Congers, N. Y., east of Haverstraw.

According to a railroad official the continued serious weather conditions which have hampered service for the past month have necessitated almost constant use of snow plowing equipment, and a snowplow was in clearing snow and ice from the center track of the three-track line at Congers evidently caught on some heavy ice, derailed, and turned over, blocking both the middle and west bound tracks.

Steam engines and crews from both Weehawken and Kingston were dispatched to the scene, but the Kingston crew was not used. No injuries were reported and traffic was restored to normal by noon, a railroad official said.

Stassen Against Sending Any War Goods to Russia

Portland, Me., Jan. 30 (AP)—The United States government, says Harold E. Stassen, should not ship to Russia "one item" that could be used for war "unless and until the Russians show a change in foreign policy."

"The strapping Minnesotan, who moves north to Lewiston and Augusta today in quest of Maine support for his G.O.P. presidential ambitions, expressed the opinion while answering questions after a speech here last night.

He gave figures to show that the United States has sent more machinery and electrical equipment to Russia than to England or France.

Stassen also expressed belief that "we have a good chance to work out this clash of world powers without a war with Russia."

In his speech to a group of Maine Young Republicans Stassen promised to support the party's presidential nominee "whoever he may be," and declared: "A Republican party that meets the issues and makes its internal decisions of policy openly and frankly will have a better chance of victory in November than if it glossed over or evaded the vital questions of the future."

Spider Thompson Stops Brown in Fourth Round of Main Contest

New Yorker Subs for Lacelle When Canucks Get Snowbound

The 1948 Olympic featherweight boxing division will be in high class hands if "Spider" Thompson of Buffalo is designated for that coveted honor. Anybody who saw the svelte, southpaw boxing master batter rugged Al Brown of New York into submission in four rounds of last night's feature attraction at the municipal auditorium will vouch for that prediction.

In a superlative boxing exhibition, that was a throwback to the days when Lou Ambers was masquerading as Otis Paradise in these parts, Thompson made the huge crowd forget that the popular Canadian boxing team was unable to reach Kingston because of a severe snowstorm in the Malone area.

How Far Has Louis Slipped? Nobody Is Sure Yet

Chicago, Jan. 30 (AP)—"Just how far has Joe Louis slipped,"—the big question that has been puzzling the boxing world for the past two months—remained as puzzling as ever today with this exception:

The Brown Bomber, at the age of 33, is no longer the devastating bomber of old when he knocked out 22 in 25 title defenses over a 10-year span. Age is catching up to him very rapidly.

The world's heavyweight champion last night engaged in his first test with the gloves since his disputed split decision over Jersey Joe Walcott in New York last Dec. 5 by giving Bob Foxworth a one-sided boxing lesson in a four-round exhibition.

Foxworth, 24-year-old East St. Louis, Ill., aspirant to the lightweight championship, won 16 out of 18 bouts, 14 by knockouts. However, he offered no line on Louis since he had never met him before; was outweighed by 43 pounds; lacked height and weight to match Louis; was outclassed and obviously scared stiff. Louis won every round easily.

Giants Meet Bears In Fresh Air Game

New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—The New York Giants will meet the Chicago Bears in the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund football game at the Polo Grounds September 14, it was announced today.

The contest replaces the Giant-Eastern College All-Star game, which has been the attraction since the charity event was instituted in 1936.

The sponsor pointed out the switch was made in view of the unusual run of freshman talent which will be available to the two National League clubs and thus will provide all the attractive features of an All-Star game.

Kramer 12, Riggs 10

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 30 (AP)—Bobby Riggs finished strong to defeat Jack Kramer, 3-6, 9-7, 6-4, here last night and cut Kramer's lead in their transcontinental tennis tour to 12 matches to 10. Dinny Pails, former Australian champ, defeated Pancho Segura of Ecuador, 9-7, 6-3, 6-3, to take a 10-8 edge in their series. The touring pros play in Miami Sunday.

Wiltwycks Edge Miron's, 31-29 In Overtime

Wiltwyck Motors nosed out Miron Lumber, 31-29, in the second overtime period in a Y. Basketball League contest last night, after the clubs had battled to a 27-27 standstill in the regulation game.

Sonny Barnes' deuce tied the score at 27-27. In the first overtime, Aaron Bahl scored from under for Miron's and Jim Madden broke in a one-handed pivot for Wiltwycks for a 29-29 score.

The second overtime was a sudden death affair and ended in 45 seconds when Wiltwycks took the tap and controlled the ball by neat passwork until Bob Hunt laid up a one-handed shot that cleared the rim twice before falling through.

Bob Hunt was the only player on either side to hit double figures in the defensive end, scoring six fields and three singletons for 15.

Cranford 5-8 Over Buonvino

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—Gino Buonvino, the Bari (Italy) bouncer, is the latest obstacle in the path of Washington's Jackie Cranford.

Their third round heavyweight brawl took place tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Cranford, an early 5 to 8 favorite, and Buonvino eventually may wind up fighting for a title. But the semi-final is more specific. Here Terry Young of New York's East Side has only to get past Brooklyn's Jackie Cranford to earn a promised lightweight championship fight with Ike Williams. This tentative is set for the Garden, February 27.

The heavyweight star bout should determine which way Jackie and Gino are headed. Cranford flopped in 1946 after early promise but has redeemed himself with seven straight wins. Buonvino, a busy right-poly-gent, hasn't lost since he arrived from Italy. A draw with Herbie Katz was his only non-winning effort in nine U. S. starts.

N. Y. Cold So Severe Sanitation Men Quit

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—New York city's prolonged cold wave intensified in severity today as the temperature fell 20 degrees overnight, reaching a low of eight degrees above zero at 7 a. m.

The cold weather has gripped the metropolitan area since last Friday.

The cold became so intense in the early morning that Department of Sanitation officials directed their 3,750 snow clearance and refuse collection workers to quit work at 4 a. m.

The lowest temperature, five above zero, was recorded on January 24.

The Weather Bureau forecast a high of "near 20" for the day.

Your Earnings And The '47 Income Tax

If you earned less than $5,000 last year, you may use Withholding Statement Form W-2 (given you by your employer) as your income tax return.

There's one "tip" to keep in mind:

You can only use this short form if your income consists wholly of wages shown on the Withholding Statement or if your salary plus a total of not more than $100 in other wages, dividends or interest add up to less than $5,000.

Before the end of January, you should receive a statement of taxes already withheld from your employer. If you fit in the under $5,000 category, you can file this form.

However, to be sure you are paying the least possible amount, you should figure your tax on the long-form 1040 also, taking your deductions and exemptions individually.

You may save yourself a few dollars or more this way.

Find out what deductions you can take, who your dependents are, how to tabulate your expenses and losses through the year. See our Reader Service tax guide prepared by tax expert Henry M. ## Affiliation With Third Party Voted Woodstock, Jan. 30.—Affiliation rather than a merger with a third party to sponsor Henry Wallace as a presidential candidate in the 1948 election, was the unanimous vote taken Tuesday evening by members of the Ulster County Chapter of the Progressive Citizens of America at a meeting in the Woodstock Art Gallery when chairman Richard Burlingame presided.

It was learned, however, that at the Chicago convention of the P.C.A. held last week, there was a strong trend towards merging with a third party, possibly the American Labor Party, because of some controversy on this score, however, delegates were asked to report back to their local chapters and be prepared to send delegates next week to the national convention in Albany when the final vote will be had on this important question.

Mrs. Bernard Pauker and Mrs. Mrs. Sippin were chosen as delegates to represent the Ulster County chapter in Albany. In spite of the affiliation sentiment shown in Tuesday's meeting, it was decided that delegates should report to the convention uninstructed by their chapter.

"Exciting Convention" The convention in Chicago was not called to form a third party, said Herman Cherry who with Mrs. Cherry were delegates from Ulster County, and continued, "It was a national meeting of the P.C.A., where Henry Wallace was reported the convention to be 'exciting, dynamic and adventurous' and considered the participation of the younger people present to be most heartening. He was particularly impressed with the enthusiasm and practical knowledge of campaigning possessed by many of the younger delegates who were from New York City. An example of this was given when he told about an impromptu rally staged on the train en route from Chicago, when all of the passengers were invited, several of whom were signed up as P.C.A. members at the end of the rally.

Scribe Finds New Woodstock Art in Helpful Neighbors

Woodstock, Jan. 30.—The modern trend is frequently the topic of discussion in Woodstock art, music, craft, writing and other circles and many evidences of such a tendency are to be found here.

One of the past week, however, your reporter has been the humble recipient of another art about which little or nothing is written and no doubt rarely discussed because it is such an old fashioned art and simply taken for granted perhaps, and that is the art of being a good neighbor.

Last Sunday was a perfect example of the thoughtfulness shown by some whose deeds have not been plowed and could not get their skills to come for a visit. One such skier was equipped with a basket containing delicious home-made foods which are always such a treat, and that is but one of the many examples of the spirit that prevails in Woodstock.

Like Husband's Cooking Friends have come in to answer the telephone, run errands, prepare and serve my lunch. Home canned fruits, pies, biscuits, broths and other delightful delicacies have been presented, news of the doings in the town, and last but not least, after 17 years, I have discovered my husband can really cook and that is an art I sincerely hope he will continue to pursue.

For many pleasant revelations I have enjoyed, I just returned from Venezuela, will address the Woodstock Discussion Group in the Art Gallery, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. His topic will be "South America's Economic Dilemma."

This talk was originally scheduled for last Sunday evening but had to be postponed because of the unfavorable weather conditions. Anyone interested in the topic to be discussed is invited to attend this meeting.

Petrillo Softens His Radio Stand

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—Radio programs originating on standard networks may be duplicated over frequency modulation stations beginning Sunday as a result of an agreement reached yesterday between James C. Petrillo and the four major networks.

The agreement also calls for a 60-day extension of the terms of the present contract between the networks and the American Federation of Musicians due to expire tomorrow midnight.

Announcement of the developments came in a joint announcement by the A. F. of M. Musicians Union president and officials of the networks—ABC, CBS, MBS and NBC.

The terse statement disclosed that Petrillo is dropping his demand for the networks to try to have affiliated stations employ more musicians. This action and the lifting of the ban on FM application of a standard radio musical programs were regarded in industry circles as a softening of Petrillo's stand. They boosted hopes for an agreement lifting the union ban on live music for television.

Water Sports in Bermuda

Spear fishing in the surf before a backdrop of Bermuda's famed coral formations provides a different type of sport for vacationists. (Goggles are worn for viewing sub-surface marine life.) Three hours after leaving New York's winter weather aboard a Pan American Airways' Clipper holidaying Americans can begin enjoying the variety of activities at the Atlantic island resort.

Bermuda Season Opens This Month

More seats for Bermuda-bound passengers and more accommodations for visitors once they arrive at the resort islands will feature the British colony's 1948 season which opens this month, Greenwald's Travel Service of this city announced today.

The keynote of what is expected to be Bermuda's best season since before the war was the reopening of the spacious Bermuda Hotel January 15. The 250-room Bermudiana has been entirely redecorated after war service as headquarters for mail censorship.

When the Bermudiana opened its doors to guests, a total of 1,830 rooms in hotels, golf clubs, and guest houses became available. Another Bermuda landmark, the Princess Hotel, is expected to be ready for the Easter season.

Water Spots

Some silks, rayons and wools are spotted by water. To remove such spots dampen the entire material evenly, either by sponging with clean water or by shaking in the steam from a briskly boiling teakettle. Then press while still damp. Scratching with the fingernail or a stiff brush or rubbing the cloth between the hands will sometimes remove the spot.

Shift Signal Cues 3 No Trump Play

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

There are many little points that must be remembered in the play of the hand. We cannot take a rule and apply it to every case. In today's hand Benjamin O. Johnson of Spartanburg, S. C., gives a good example of refusal to apply the hold-up.

Regarding the bidding, South's hand was a little too strong to open with one no trump and not strong enough to bid two no trump. When North bid two clubs, South correctly jumped to three no trump. As a matter of fact, he was quite happy that his partner had kept the bidding open, and he was not going to give him another chance to pass.

Johnson, who became Life Master No. 106 at the recent national tournament in Atlantic City, N. J., sat South. On West's opening lead of the queen of hearts, East played the three-spot.

Most of the declarers refused to win the first trick with the ace of hearts, but Johnson knew that East held the king because of West's lead of the queen. If West had held the king, his correct opening would have been the king instead of the queen. Certainly West must have opened at least a four-card suit, which meant that East had not the king and three of hearts. Therefore his proper play would have been to overtake the queen of hearts with the king and return the three-spot.

Why then had East played the three? It must have been because he wanted his partner to shift.

At the tables where declarer refused to win the first trick, West shifted to the eight of diamonds. The jack was played from dummy. East put on the queen and declarer won with the ace. Now when he led the king of clubs, West won, came out with another

Piano Prodigy Made Juvenile Court Ward

San Francisco, Jan. 30 (AP)—Jacqueline Horner, 15-year-old runaway from Hollywood prominence and piano exercises, has been made a ward of the juvenile court and, today, was reluctantly awaiting transportation home.

Juvenile authorities said the pretty piano prodigy would be returned to her mother, Mrs. Clara Horner, as soon as transportation could be arranged.

Mrs. Helen Bloch, juvenile court referee, ruled that Jacqueline would be under jurisdiction of Los Angeles juvenile authorities.

The decision was made over Jacqueline's vehement objections "I don't want to go back to any more work," the girl said. "I just want to be normal like any other girl of my age."

She was found in San Francisco January 21 after an eight-day search. Police located Jackie in a hotel room with 19-year-old Wallace Wells of Hood River, Ore., a heavy workman. The two told authorities they had done nothing wrong. Investigators agreed.

Wells, accused in Superior Court of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, was released to the navy by Judge I. L. Harris, who said both were "just children."

Priorities Are Set For Fuel Oil Use Throughout State

Sells, Company Officials
Confer in New York;
Would Discontinue
Diesel Engines

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—A program of fuel oil priorities, regulating delivery of the scarce heating fuel throughout New York state, was announced here yesterday as a protracted cold wave continued to grip the nation from the mid-west to the Atlantic.

The program, under which oil would be channeled to home owners, public institutions and food producers rather than "non-essential" users, was decided at a day-long series of conferences between east coast oil firm representatives and Charles H. Sells, state fuel co-ordinator.

Sells said that although fuel oil could not arbitrarily be denied non-essential users, distributors would be expected to give prior delivery to essential consumers.

In another measure to conserve oil, the co-ordinator announced that railroads had been requested to halt the use of diesel locomotives until May 1.

Sells said the priority program was decided upon after his office received numerous reports that heating oil was not reaching persons and institutions needing it most.

Oil users classified as essential, he added, include poultry and dairy farmers, schools, hospitals, public buildings, homes, apartment houses and food processing plants.

Many New York homes and apartments remained without heat and hospitals and public buildings reported their supplies of fuel dangerously low. The Health Department struggled to keep its clinics open. Some already had been forced to close "day or two at a time" during the prolonged period of frigid weather, a spokesman said.

Sailing of a tanker convoy up the Hudson river to fuel-hungry communities upstate will be delayed until late today or tomorrow, Sells said last night.

The convoy, carrying about 2,000,000 gallons, will be led by the East Wind, a Coast Guard ice-breaker, which returned to New York last night after a three-day channel-cutting cruise to Albany.

Record Reservations For Democrats' Dinner

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Democratic faithful are coming to the aid of the party with $100 bills. For this, they will get a dinner.

"Record-breaking reservations" for the Jefferson-Jackson Dinner here February 17 were reported today by Wilton W. Wyatt, the chairman.

As a result, he said, the main ballroom of the Mayflower Hotel, which seats 900, isn't big enough and the dinner will be split into two sections. One will be at the Mayflower, the other at the Statler.

President Truman will divide his time between the two. His speech will be carried by radio and television to similar dinners elsewhere.

Warships at Sydney On Visit of Good Will

Sydney, Jan. 30 (AP)—Six United States warships of Task Force 38 slipped into Sydney harbor for a goodwill visit today. They were almost unnoticed in a blinding rainstorm.

The task force, with a total complement of 2,300 men, included the 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Valley Forge, the destroyers Lloyd Thomas, William M. Wood, Keppeler and William C. Lawe, and the tanker Missillon.

Princess Is 'Better'

Bern, Switzerland, Jan. 30 (AP)—Doctors reported Princess Troubetzkoy, the former Barbara Hutton, "rather better" today. But they said she was not yet out of danger. An examination this morning, the doctors said, disclosed no complications from a serious intestinal operation performed in a Bern clinic Tuesday. The princess, heiress to the Woolworth dime-store fortune, has been married to Prince Igor Troubetzkoy of France for a year.

Snow Causes Roof to Collapse

Weight of the heavy accumulated snow on the Levine Brothers garage at 63 Chambers street caused the roof to cave in on the above pictured Siller Beef Co. truck late Thursday afternoon. Fear of the walls also collapsing, caused policemen to check the area during the regular patrol car tours Thursday night. (Freeman Photo)

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Jan. 30—Victor Dunnagan, well known farmer of the Boiceville hill road, is reported as being ill and a patient at the Kingston Hospital. William Rynard, a neighbor of Victor, is caring for the latter's livestock.

Leonard Ruckert came up from Flushing the early part of the week to look over his boarding house property in the village center. Mr. and Mrs. Ruckert planned to leave Wednesday for Florida where they will spend a few weeks.

Mrs. Cornwell Longyear, formerly a school teacher of this county, writes local friends that she and her husband are enjoying fairly good health at their ranch near Albuquerque, N. M., this winter. "But," adds Mrs. Longyear, "we are keeping our fingers crossed as the California 'Virus-X' (respiratory malady which has afflicted nearly half a million persons in Los Angeles county, alone) has reached these parts."

One of the stated tax-gathering days scheduled for January, passed off pleasantly enough at the corner store Tuesday. Collector Earl Brundage was assisted in his duties by Harry Brathwaite, former member of the local election board. Perhaps the oldest resident taxpayer who attended the sitting was Edwin D. Secor, industrious Tomchee neighborhood general farmer. Ed, a former Ashokan postmaster and Republican committeeman, served as a clerk in the State Legislature during the years when Nathan L. Miller was governor.

Jan. 28, 1910—Newsy notes of the Lyonsville section: John M. Roosa is being attended by Dr. O. K. Keator. The school is being taught by Miss Reed. Byron Vandemark, who recently sold his farm to Irvin Barringer of Samsonville, has bought the Simon P. Lyons place at Krippelbush. Tobacco items: Charles Krum has purchased a young hunting dog of Virgil Barringer. George A. Kim has bought standing pulpwood of John Hoornbeek and is drawing it out the Napanoch mill. Palentown jottings: Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Barringer have been visiting relatives in Hawley, Pa. . . . Noah Barringer has bought a yoke of oxen from Spencer Traver. . . . Willie Barringer, farmer, horse trader, has sold a valuable road horse to Zadoc and Noah Barringer. (And that's about all the news of the Barringer clan).

Virgil Gordon, who was seriously ill the latter part of last year, has resumed his duties as foreman on Ashokan Reservoir maintenance work.

George Secor, War 2 veteran of submarine service in Pacific waters, and his wife have returned to California. Mrs. Secor's former home. George while here last winter completed his war-interrupted high school course in Kingston and later secured employment in Connecticut. He is now with a concern dealing in electrical and other pumps.

Local friends of George Whittle will learn with regret that the elderly Ashokan resident is not so well this winter and is at a Kingston sanitarium. Mr. Whittle before his retirement a few years ago was a farmer of long standing in the Temple's Pond sector of the Town of Hurley.

Paul Engler, Route 28 farmer who underwent a major operation last fall in taking things easier since his recovery. Paul has performed curtailed his farming operations by reducing his dairy herd to two cows and retaining only 40 laying hens. Mr. Engler is of the opinion that there is little, if any profit in the poultry business these days, what with grains hovering around the $5 per cwt. mark.

Mrs. Richard Coons of the Reformed Church parsonage has resumed her duties as a teacher at the Saugerties central school following an attack of laryngitis.

Alva Bailey, Sr., town dog warden, picked up three unlicensed dogs Tuesday. The warden under the law disposes of such animals at once, while those bearing old tags are kept for five days before being put out of the way. One of the unlucky canines was a female police dog, reported to have fallen or been dropped from a passing car some time ago and which had since given birth to puppies. It is understood that the strange dog's young have been given away to birthday persons. Late January birthdays include those of Adeline Beldin, 29th, and Merlin DuBois, Saturday, the 31st. Mrs. Beldin, 81, was born in South Tallow, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers. She left Olive when a young woman and has been a resident of Flint, Mich., for many years. Mrs. Beldin is deeply religious and retains a lively interest in her local friends whom she used to know in the Olive-Denning line sector.

Merlin was brought up at Ashokan, one of three sons of Lemuel E. and Jessie (Winne) DuBois. He attended high school in Kingston and served in World War 2 with the 74th Tank Battalion in the First and General Patton's Third Armies. He was wounded and spent considerable time in hospitals, including one in Belgium, before returning home.

Merlin, or "Dutch" as he has long been familiarly known here, is married and resides on the mountain road near Glenford. Justus North of the Shokan Reformed Church Board has been appointed by the consistory to contact all church members about the United Advancement Plan for raising funds for world-wide church activities. The plan calls for a number of good works, including the advancement of Reformed missionary projects and repairing of churches in war-torn areas. Mr. North will be glad to receive subscriptions and donations in this worthy cause.

Echo of Past: Although it is generally thought that the ravaging of homes and abduction of civilians during our Revolutionary War was carried out exclusively by Tories and Indians, there is evidence that the regular British forces also were 'pretty good' at this kind of devilry. We have, for example, this entry in the diary of Col. Abraham Hasbrouck, following a brief surprise visit by the enemy to the mouth of the Rondout Creek: Oct. 16, 1777. Then the enemy under command of Generals Clinton and Vaughn came to Kingston, in Esopus, and burnt my dwelling house, barns, cider house, and also small out-kitchen left standing when my dwelling was burned down 23rd October 1776, and they burnt all the houses, barns, except one house and barn, in the town, church and county house likewise. Laid everything in a rubble of ashes, fences and everything they came to, and they conveyed with them my Negroes—Henry, Nancy and Flora, and destroyed all my household goods and furniture and my library of books. My loss I sustained this time I compute no less than 5,000 pounds at least. (The Redcoats, we are told, then skedaddled back to their boats and escaped before even the burchers and militiamen could be rounded up for a counter-attack).

Ford and Reuther Talk Labor Policy

No Disputes Involved in 3-Hour Parley
Held at Detroit

Detroit, Jan. 30 (AP)—Young Henry Ford's flare for the unconventional caused a lot of discussion in industry and labor circles today.

Taking a leaf from his famed grandfather's book, the 30-year-old Ford Motor Co. president did the unexpected and talked over "general labor policy matters" for three hours yesterday with President Walter Reuther of the C.I.O. United Auto Workers.

It was the second meeting of the two in less than two months, but it was the first time labor relations were discussed by top labor and management officials when no contract negotiations or disputes involving them were in progress.

A union spokesman called it "an innovation labor-management relations" and said the U.A.W. "hopes this kind of meetings will continue."

Top aides of both Ford and Reuther took part in the conference, arranged unannounced on the union's invitation but held at the company offices.

The conferees went over "overall policy matters to improve labor relations," said a joint statement, but did not touch on contract negotiations.

The statement said the purpose of the meeting was to "seek a better understanding on the labor situation as it affects all of us."

The Ford-U.A.W. contract extends into 1949 and the wage clause cannot be changed except by mutual consent before next July. Wage talks between the two are expected to start sometime in May.

Remembers Our Talk

The people on Sylt, German owned island in the North Sea, speak a dialect that more nearly resembles English than any language on the continent of Europe.

"I'm told she's very beautiful," McDowell told reporters. He said the woman is married and lives on the west coast.

The Pennsylvania heads a subcommittee which has been looking into what he says is an "astounding" number of illegal entries of undesirable aliens into the United States.

Ex-Mistress of Duce Would Be Quizzed

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said today a former mistress of Mussolini, now in this country, may be called soon for quizzing by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"I'm told she's very beautiful," McDowell told reporters. He said the woman is married and lives on the west coast.

25 Persons Are Hurt When Train Is Derailed

Omaha, Jan. 30 (AP)—All the cars and all but one of three power units of the 18-car City of San Francisco were derailed at Korty, Neb., at 12:30 a. m. today, a spokesman for the Union Pacific railroad said here.

Twenty-five persons were taken to the Ogallala, Neb., hospital, for treatment, but a hospital spokesman said that apparently none of them are in critical condition.

The Union Pacific spokesman said five of the cars of the crack train are on their sides, or leaning. He said a broken wheel on one car of the power unit is blamed for the derailment.

A special train has been dispatched from Omaha to bring the injured among the 214 passengers to Omaha. Korty is 28 miles west of North Platte, Neb.
